YOUR ENGAGEMENT SESSION

Your engagement session...this is where all the fun starts! It is one of my first chances to really get to know you as a couple and for you to get to know me as your photographer. We choose a location and then go spend an hour or so having a ball! My style of shooting is very conversational, so my couples have fun and feel comfortable. The idea is for the camera to fall away and for the two of you to relax and have fun! The images we capture are a lasting memory of this short but very sweet part of your relationship. You've committed to one another, you're excited for the future, and your knee deep in planning... This session is a chance to step out and capture that moment!

BRIDALS

Your Bridal Portraits...

So I'm only human...I have to have a favorite moment of the day, and if I'm being honest – it's bridal portraits!! I really love shooting the bride in all her glory. There is something so wonderful about that moment when your dress is on, your hair is done, and you feel like that vision you've had in your head since you were a little girl! I am actually at that moment in life where I'm a good handful of years past when I was a bride and a good handful of years away from seeing my own girls get married... so I really treasure capturing this particular moment and looking both at the past and the future with joy!

HIS TURN...

It sometimes feels like Wedding Days can be “mostly” about the Bride...but we all know that it’s about the two of you! Grooms portraits are so important and I might add so much fun to capture! Gentlemen – I so appreciate seeing you on your wedding day...full of excitement and anticipation, often goofing around with your groomsmen and looking as handsome as can be!

ALL THE LITTLE DETAILS

I am a detail person...so it stands to reason that I LOVE those detail shots!! It's a chance to bring out the artist in me and showcase your wedding details in a beautiful way. I speak from experience when i say...for as much time as it feels like you're spending planning your wedding...you will forgot so many of these beautiful little details. That's where I come in – preserving all of it so you can always remember!

Group

LET'S GET TOGETHER

Ahhh Group Shots!! They are SO much fun! You have chosen your very best friends and loving family members to stand up with you on your wedding day so the photos of you all together should mirror the feelings you have for each other and the joy you share during this day! I LOVE fun, close, joyful group shots.... as you can see from these fun images!

I GET SO EMOTIONAL !
capturing all the precious moments...

THE ONE MY HEART LOVES

Couple's Portraits! I will tell you that this moment during the day is one of my other favorites!! Whether you choose to do a First Look before the ceremony or wait until after...this portrait time is the first time during your day that you will actually have some sweet alone time (except for me, of course...) But honestly, it is your time to see each other, to hug, to kiss, to take stock of what this moment means and to ENJOY it!! It is very sweet and likely one of the few moments during your day that will stick with you for years to come!

I SWEAR I COULDN'T LOVE YOU
MORE THAN I DO RIGHT NOW &
YET I KNOW I WILL TOMORROW...

DON'T FORGET THE KIDS!

Ok friends...as a photographer, there is maybe nothing better for candid moments than the awesome kiddos you ask to be a part of your day! Kids are the BEST! They are who they are, and capturing their silliness, or cuteness, or sweetness on your day is an absolute highlight!

YOUR DAY

WITH YOUR BEST FRIENDS!

The Ring Shot

You could technically count the Ring Shot in with all those great detail photos, but to me, the Ring Shots deserve a mention of their own. Your rings are a symbol of your union and unique to the two of you. I love to showcase these beauties in a way that is both beautiful and meaningful.

Your Wedding Day Timeline

The Wedding Day Timeline! This may be the most important tool in my bag!! I find using a pre-prepared timeline takes all the stress out of photos and helps everyone know whats going on! During our pre-wedding meetings, I will have you fill out a pretty extensive questionnaire and from those answers, I will create a rough draft of a wedding day timeline. You and I will hash it out together to get it just right, and once complete, we share it with ALL the important parties...wedding party, moms, dads, wedding planners, family members etc. That way – everyone knows where to be and when – Voila! No stress! I have an example timeline below for you to look over:

12:00 – Kate and girls arrive back at the house (from hair appt.)
12:30 - Sally arrives – (Kate & girls possible having lunch here??)
12:30 – 1:30 hair and makeup getting done/finished – Sally shooting gettin ready shots.
1:30 (other possible place for lunch – just let me know if you’ve decided when lunch is happening and I’ll adjust the timeline in a final draft)
2:00 Kate getting dress on – shots of girls helping here, buttoning up, fluffing, admiring/ getting jewelry and shoes on etc.
2:20 – Mom and Dad seeing Kate for the 1 st time photo
2:30 – 3:15 - Bridal Portraits, Bride with Girls, Individual shots of girls, (WITH Flowers if we have them!) Bouquets shots in here as well.
3:15 – Sally goes to guys house to do some basic “guys getting ready photos”
3:35-4:15/4:30 – <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Groom’s portraits• Groom with his guys,• and if possible Noah’s Mom pinning on his boutoniere.	6:00 - Recessional/ dismissal (those included in family photos, please STAY in the ceremony area!! Also Bridal Party please stay (including ring bearer and flower girl. If parents of RB and FG want to have a few snacks on hand – it might be good if the kiddos are getting hungry while they wait for family photos to be done.)
4:30ish – Sally to shoot what she can of the reception area if tables are don	6:15 – Family formal photos (we will start these as soon as we can so if it night be before 6:15)

5:30 – Ceremony	6:40 – 7pm – Bridal Couple Portraits
	7:00 Grand Entrance to Reception (much like the exit normally is – making a big deal/tossing confetti etc.)
